Accessible books and more for kids and teens

Kids deserve to have access to their favourite books, no matter how they read. Readers with print disabilities such as learning disabilities, vision loss and physical disabilities can enjoy a collection of professionally produced reading materials offered through their public library.

What is available?

Free access to CELA and Bookshare collections of more than 500,000 titles for all ages in English and French.

- Human-narrated audio, accessible ebooks and braille
- Books for school: books by Canadian authors, classics, social issues, books for novel studies
- Books for fun: popular series, bestsellers, and non-fiction
- Magazines in DAISY text: Highlights, Seventeen and more
- Books for popular reading programs like the Ontario Library Association’s Forest of Reading.

Where libraries and accessibility connect

celalibrary.ca  1-855-655-2273
How do I read books from CELA?

• Mobile devices with accessible reading apps (Dolphin Easy Reader or Voice Dream Reader) or computer.
• Braille display or embossed braille
• Daisy player

Who can use CELA?

The inability to read traditional print resulting from:

• Disabilities related to comprehension (i.e. learning disabilities)
• Vision loss or blindness
• Physical disabilities

How do I sign up?

Visit your public library and ask to register for CELA services.

Already have a public library card?
Sign up at signup.celalibrary.ca

Educators may sign up at educators.celalibrary.ca